

NYU Learning - Survey

Please take the time the following questions and email them to todd.gureckis@nyu.edu (remember to link '[nyulearn]' in the subject line!) before the next class. If you aren't comfortable answering any of these questions non-anonymously you will have another chance later in the semester to give feedback. I'm just hoping to head of early issues and improve the structure of the course for those who are taking it.

1. Registered Name:
2. Preferred Name:
3. Preferred email address:
4. Year in grad school/program:
5. What is your main research area/interests in graduate school?
6. What are your interests in the learning course and what do you hope to get out of it?
7. So far the lectures have been largely one sided. This is not entirely typical of a graduate course, but at the same time I'm trying to provide a key structure or organization which is consistent with the "core" nature of the course. Do you have any thoughts on this? Would it be helpful to spend some time discussing the readings as a group?
8. Are you finding the lectures helpful? Is the pace too fast or slow?
9. What about readings? Is there something you were expected to read more of?
10. Any other suggestions?
